

August 2020
Deb Daney Singley & Vince Singley
Melbourne Beach, Florida

Deb Daney Singley

Yes, we still live in Melbourne Beach. It has been 11 years already since we moved here from Jericho, VT. Although we loved VT and our life there the winter in VT is too too long and it is too too cold. I wanted to retire someplace warm 12 months out of the year.

FL fit the bill, plus I had to be close to the ocean, 500 ft. Vince would not let me live closer. Good surfing here. Reminds me a lot of New Jersey. And we love to travel to Key West at least once a year, a pleasant drive.

Hope to make it to the reunion 2021.

Vince Singley

We still live in Melbourne Beach, FL. But moved to a bigger house w/ a swimming pool, 1/2 block from ocean on East coast of FL. We lived in Melbourne Beach for 11 years. We moved there after I retired from IBM. I was an engineer for IBM and lived in Jericho, VT. It is much too cold there year round so when I retired we headed south where it is always warm and snow does not exist. For enjoyment we swim in our pool, ride our bikes, and just plain relax. There is absolutely no comparison between Melbourne Beach and Bethlehem. Living here is like vacationing year round. We may attend the 60th reunion. I have hip surgery coming up and it all depends on my recovery. We are very lucky in that life has been very good to us.
