Claire Romano Fisher

Orlando, Florida

Tom and I moved to Florida 20 years ago. We had a few moves due to his job in the steel industry. All involved moves to colder areas! On retirement we decided to also retire the snow shovel!

Our youngest son, wife and granddaughter live nearby in Orlando. The rest of our family is scattered all over the USA. Family in PA- including a son, married grandchildren in Texas, daughter and husband in Oregon. We still do much travel.

We love the winters and spring in this area. The summers do get quite long. I do not miss the humidity when it leaves late in the year.

I miss the small town aura of Bethlehem and all of the old beautiful homes and history. I enjoy the FB page for my hometown. However, I have been away so long, I know I have changed and so has Bethlehem. Not in a bad way.

Since retirement we have enjoyed travel. Cruises through the Panama Canal, Alaska, 3 trips to Italy, western USA. I met my Italian cousins in my father's hometown. Thanks to modern technology we often communicate. (Although their English is a bit better than my Italian!)

Right now we are getting through this viral black cloud and hope a June trip to the west coast will still be a go.

Up in the air about next reunion. I do enjoy reading the Liberty High school 61 website. You all are doing a great job!
